The Association of Engineering Professionals in Society (AES) is organising a "Seminar on Engineering Projects Development in ASEAN Member Countries" which will be held on Wednesday, 25 November 2009 at Theatre II of the Hong Kong Convention & Exhibition Centre.

The aim of the Seminar is to explore how the engineering professional services in Hong Kong could facilitate economic and business co-operation with ASEAN Member Countries. Senior government officials, academicians and expertise in Hong Kong as well as from Guangxi, Vietnam, Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia and Macau, would be invited to share with us about their governmental policies in promoting economic and business co-operation with the ASEAN Member Countries, and their plans in promoting and gaining recognition of the contribution of the professionals to the social and economic developments in those countries. There will also be display of industries including Biomedical, Testing & Certification, and Facility Management, where Hong Kong have competitive advantages.

The Seminar is one of the activities held under the project entitled "Enriching Hong Kong Engineers' Understanding of Practicing Requirements, Current and Future Engineering Industry Development in the ASEAN Member Countries, and Competitive Strengths and Opportunities for Hong Kong Enterprises to Enter the Market", funded by the Professional Services Development Assistance Scheme (PSDAS) of the HKSAR Government.
